Crossrail is a major new railway proposal that would link Maidenhead and Heathrow in the west with Shenfield and Ebbsfleet in the east through new tunnels under central London. Trains could be running by 2013 bringing major reductions in congestion and journey times for London and the South East.

Last year we consulted on possible routes and stations. Although some details remain flexible, the preferred route has now been fixed and is shown opposite.

Crossrail are assuming that the process to ask Parliament for permission to build, operate and maintain the railway would start in 2005. Before this, more consultation on the scheme detail is planned between 5 August 2004 and 27 October 2004.

Public information centres will be held along the proposed route between 6 September 2004 and 9 October 2004.

We are also planning Information Exchanges which will open from August and will remain available over a longer period. At all these events, Crossrail staff will be on hand to explain the new display, offer you our latest publications and answer your questions.

We are keen to receive your comments on how Crossrail is developing. Please complete a freepost reply-paid comment card, send us an e-mail or write or telephone us.

The Crossrail website at www.crossrail.co.uk carries all the available information.

You can also ask for the Display Panels, Consultation Document or Information Pack by calling the Helpdesk on 0845 602 3813 (24 hours, 7-days a week),
